Training Workshop

Energy Bill reduction and Renewable Energy for Tourism Businesses

September 21st, Falcondale Hotel, Lampeter 10:30-14:30, lunch provided

The cost of energy always seems to rise in the long-term, and the sudden price rises seen over the past few years have hit everyone. Reducing your energy needs and/or installing renewable energy systems can make a real difference to profitability AND strengthen the appeal of your accommodation to your visitors.

The Welsh Assembly's Environmental Goods and Services Innovation team, together with Medrwn are offering a FREE opportunity to:

- Compare practical energy-saving measures matched to your business
- Find out who to contact for advice and assistance
- Learn about different renewable energy technologies
- See how other tourism businesses in Wales have used renewable energy
- Meet Welsh businesses able to offer tailored renewable energy products

Businesses from caravan parks to small holiday cottage operators can benefit from improving efficiency and installing renewable energy systems. If you want to:

- Save money
- Enhance your business
- Help protect our environment, which is one of the major assets of tourism in mid and north Wales.

To reserve your place please contact Ian Rose on 01970 613225 or Katherine York on 01970 613254
